NSU hosts seminar on 'Higher Education Opportunities in USA'

Daily Sun Report, Dhaka

North South University (NSU) hosted an insightful seminar on Monday on "Higher Education Opportunities in the USA," attracting an enthusiastic audience of students, faculty members, and distinguished guests.

The event aimed to guide students aspiring to study in the United States, offering valuable insights into the application process and academic pathways available abroad, said a press release.

As the Chief Guest, Stephen Ibelli, public affairs counselor at the US Embassy in Dhaka, attended the seminar.

In his speech, Ibelli highlighted the transformative impact of American education, stating, "World-class American education is truly life-changing. Bangladeshi students in the U.S. act as ambassadors, connecting the two countries through shared experiences."
