

NSU ranked country's top private university

Daily Sun Report,
Dhaka

In the recently released Times Higher Education (THE) Asia University Rankings 2024, North South University (NSU) has emerged as the leading private university in Bangladesh, securing its position within the 351-400 band.

The ranking includes 739 universities from 31 territories. This year marks the 12th edition of the Asia University Rankings. NSU has made it to the list for the second year in a row.

Professor Atiqul Islam, vice-chancellor of NSU, expressed satisfaction and wholeheartedly thanked the Ministry of Education and the University Grants Commission for their unwavering support.
