NSU hosts GP Next Business Leader programme

Staff Correspondent

NORTH South University's Career and Placement Centre on Wednesday hosted the Grameenphone Next Business Leader programme, a flagship event designed to inspire and guide students toward successful careers in the telecommunications industry.

A key event highlight was signing a memorandum of understanding between the NSU and the GP, said a press release on Wednesday.

This strategic partnership is set to create numerous opportunities for both parties, fostering collaboration and opening new doors for the NSU students to gain real-world experience in one of the world's leading telecom institutions.
