

Children, also participants in a drawing competition, along with guests and speakers pose for photos during price giving ceremony of the competition on North South University campus in the capital on Sunday. — Press release

NSU holds drawing competition

Staff Correspondent

NORTH South University organised a daylong celebration to mark the 104th birth anniversary of the founding president of the country Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, and National Children's Day on its campus on Sunday.

The event featured a discussion session, and a drawing competition where children aged 4 to 15 participated, said a press release.

Mofidul Hoque, a researcher, author, and founder trustee of the Bangladesh Liberation War Museum, attended the event as chief guest. Professor Atiqul Islam, vice-chancellor of NSU, chaired the session.

NSU treasurer professor Abdur Rob Khan delivered the opening speech. Following that, Mofidul Hoque discussed the educational period and life philosophy of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman.

Professor Atiqul Islam emphasized on bringing up the next generation to implement the spirit of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. Seema Ahmad, member of NSU board of trustees, also spoke at the event.

Later, prizes were distributed among the winners of the drawing competition. Deans of all schools, directors, chairpersons of various departments, senior officers, faculty and students of various schools were present on the occasion.