

North South University vice-chancellor Professor Abdul Hannan Chowdhury, among others, inaugurates a three-day 10th National Career Fair at the NSU Plaza in Dhaka on Sunday. — Press release

NSU's 3-day career fair begins

Staff Correspondent

NORTH South University inaugurated its three-day 10th National Career Fair at the NSU Plaza in Dhaka on Sunday.

Organised by the NSU's Career and Placement Centre and presented by the MGH Group, the fair has brought together local and global organisations to engage with students and aspiring graduates and to create employment and networking opportunities for them, said a press release.

Syed Iqbal Ali Shimul, managing director of MGH Group; Aziz Al Kaiser, chairman of the board of trustees, NSU; Benajir Ahmed, former NSU BoT chairman; Professor Abdul Hannan Chowdhury, vice-chancellor of NSU; Professor Nasar Uddin Ahmed, pro-VC of NSU; and Professor Abdur Rob Khan, treasurer of NSU, among others, attended the inaugural ceremony.

The ceremony commenced with a welcome address by Farzana Nahid, director of the CPC.

Syed Iqbal Ali Shimul, said, 'Globalisation, digital transformation, sustainability challenges, and changing customer expectations are reshaping industries worldwide. In this context, career fairs like this are no longer just recruitment events; they are platforms for inspiration, learning, and meaningful connections.'

Aziz Al Kaiser said that North South University was founded on the strong belief that education should not merely prepare students for jobs but should give them leadership, strength, integrity, and impact. 'Our goal is to prepare students for leadership so they can face different situations in life.'

Professor Abdul Hannan Chowdhury said that more than a hundred local and global companies were participating in this event.