

NSU ranked in QS subject 2024

Staff Correspondent

SUBJECT Rankings 2024 by the prestigious ranking platform QS has been published recently, where North South University has been ranked for three subject categories.

NSU and University of Dhaka are jointly listed in the 351-400 band for the business and management studies category. Only two Bangladeshi universities are listed for this category. NSU's business and management is a ranked programme by QS for a good number of years.

For the computer science and information systems category, NSU stands within the 651-700 band and is preceded by University of Dhaka and Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology. Also, NSU has been ranked for its economics & econometrics programme for the first time this 2024, within the 451-500 band. The only other university qualified for this subject category is University of Dhaka. For all the above three subject rankings, NSU is the only private university ranked from Bangladesh.

