

NSU hosts case study-based learning programme for Nepalese govt officials

Daily Sun Report, Dhaka

North South University hosted a case study-based learning programme for Nepalese government officials.

Public sector officials from Nepal have joined the South Asian Institute of Policy and Governance (SIPG) at North South University to participate in a five-day training programme on Case Study Based Learning (CBL) from 28 April to 2 May.

This initiative, designed to enhance the capacities of public sector officials from Nepal, marks the second collaboration between SIPG and the Government of Nepal. Earlier, SIPG organised training for the University Grants Commission Nepal.

The training, led by faculty members of SIPG along with experts from the Bangladesh government, catered to 11 civil servants from the Nepal government.

It focused on imparting practical and theoretical knowledge through real-life case studies, enhancing decision-making, problem-solving, and strategic thinking capabilities essential for public service.

Ghanshyam Bhandari, ambassador of Nepal to Bangladesh, attended the closing ceremony of the training programme. Professor Sk Tawfique M Haque, dean (IC), the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Dr Rizwan Khair, chair (IC), the Department of Political Science and Sociology and the course director, and Dr Abdur Rob Khan, Treasurer, North South University, were also present.
